Of course, even in her childhood—at or in her recollection of it—the seeds of Graham's artistry were evident. Her father was once a gawky adolescent and later a promising student at Denishawn, the Los Angeles-based school and company run by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.

Graham's quest to express big ideas through a new dance vocabulary must certainly have been one of the reasons that she chose to leave Denishawn after having apprenticed, taught, and performed there over a period of five years. The school fell on hard times when she was left to fend for herself and did not appear to have a future, and in 1925-26 she sought to utilize her forceful stage presence in more serious works such as Ascult, in which she played the title role of a spirited Aztec princess who marries an emperor, portrayed by Shawn.

As distant as these works may be from Graham's own later work, she once wrote to Shawn, "The artist in me was born in Denishawn," and she also referred to her apprenticeship in more general terms: "It is a mistake to believe that modern dancing is a somber, unmoving art unconnected with anything that has gone before," she wrote in 1926. "It is only by knowing the rules that it becomes possible to break against them and do something new."

Martha Graham continued breaking rules for the rest of her life, especially the ones suggesting that dance should be merely a pretty pastime. "Like the modern painters and architects, we have stripped our medium of decorative unessentials," she once wrote. "Just as fancy trimmings are no longer seen on buildings, so dancing is no longer padded. It is not 'pretty' but it is much more real." Her first New York concert in 1926 featured such derivative works as The Three Gopi Maidens, which would have looked perfectly at home on a Denishawn program. But a mere three years later, she was presenting shockingly stark new dances such as Serenade and, soon after, the breakthrough Primitive Mysteries. Some critics, such as John Martin in The New York Times, challenged her fundamental visions, while others ridiculed her for such stunts as having her frazzled hair fall from a slab at her terrier of Foxtsie (with whom she owned a small kennel named "Modernistic Moe").

Graham persevered in spite of, or perhaps because of, the struggle. In time, she conquered the audiences who were initially put off by her work. Some of her dances have entered the standard repertoire, such as the current Pillow program's Appalachian Spring (1944) with its commissioned score by Aaron Copland, and Diversion of Angels (1949), which has been performed by Amar Ramasar and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.

Although Graham received her Denishawn roots and expressed admiration for the Pillow's archival resources when she brought her company here in 1984, Agnes de Mille, author of the fascinating but idiosyncratic Lamentation Variations performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Graham's own Apparition (1948), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today as towering achievements in telling stories through movement. Few dance innovators have been so consistent. Graham's ultimate goal was communication, and she always endeavored to come to her audiences with a level of gut. Even when Graham's dancers couldn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The choreographer Antony Tudor once asked if she wished to be remembered for something other than the dances themselves. When she answered, "A dancer," Tudor replied, "I pity you." Perhaps this ambivalence caused her to avoid safeguarding her works even as she continued to create them until her death in 1991. Much of the legal backing which played out quite publicly for many years could have been avoided if her works had properly copyrighted her dances. But instead, she left behind the task of properly protecting her own work, insuring that she would continue to stimulate dramatic conflict offstage as well as on, long after her death.
Program

Appalachian Spring (1944)

Springtime in the wilderness is celebrated by a man and woman building a house with joy and love and prayer; by a revivalist and his followers in their shouts of exaltation; by a pioneering woman with her dreams of the Promised Land.

Choreography & Costume
Martha Graham

Music
Aaron Copland*

Set Design
Isamu Noguchi

Lighting Design
Joan Rosenthal

Adapted by Beverly Emmons

Dancers

The Bride
Charlotte Landreau (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Anne O’Donnell (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Husbandman
Jacob Larsen (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Lloyd Mayor (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Preacher
Lorenzo Pagano (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Lloyd Knight (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Pioneering Woman
Leslie Andrea Williams (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Followers
Sopha Young An, Laurel Dalley Smith, Marzia Memoli, Anne Souder

Laurel Dalley Smith (Dancer) is from England, and joined the Company in 2015. She performs lead roles in Graham’s Errand into the Maze, Maple Leaf Rag, and Diversion of Angels, and roles in contemporary works by Marie Chouinard, Pontus Lidberg, and Annie-B Parson. Ms. Dalley Smith graduated from Central School of Ballet with 1st Class Honours. Before joining Graham she performed with the U.K. tour of West Side Story, Joss Arnott Dance, and Yonge Dance Project, creating roles in Robert Cohan’s 2014 Leipzig Franco and Lacrymosa.

So Young An (Dancer) joined the Company in 2016. An received a B.F.A. from Dong-A University in Korea. She is the recipient of the 1995 International Arts Award and the Grand Prize at the Korea National Ballet Grand Prix in 2001. She has danced with Korea National Ballet Company and Buglisi Dance Theatre and has also performed works by Yuri Grigorovich, Jean Christophe Maillot, Mats Ek, Patricia Ruanne, and Samantha Dunster.

Marzia Memoli (Dancer) is from Palermo, Italy, and joined the Company in 2015. She has performed lead roles in Graham’s El Penitente, “Steps in the Street”, and works by Pontus Lidberg, Bobbi Jane Smith, Maxine Doyle, and Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui. In 2018 Dance Spirit said she “may be the…Company’s newest dancer, but her classical lines and ease grace are already turning heads”. She graduated from the Academy of Teatro Carcano in Milan and the Béjart school where she performed with the Béjart Ballet Lausanne.

Jacob Larsen (Dancer) joined the Company in 2018. Larsen received his B.F.A. from Marymount Manhattan College where he performed works by Paul Taylor, Youra Tchay, Azuro Barton, Loni Land, and Remy Moran. At Springboard Danse Montréal 2015 he performed works by Alexander Elkmann and Banning Boulding. Larsen trained at the Graham School and was a member of Graham 2.

Ayessa Cebulski (Dancer) was born and raised in Michigan, where she trained at Valentine’s School of Ballet. She graduated from Marymount Manhattan College in 2016 with a B.F.A. in Ballet under the direction of Katie Langan. She has performed works by Dwight Rhoden, Kate Skarpetowska, Azuro Barton, and Darell Grand Moultrie, among others. She was a member of Graham 2.

Alessio Crognaile (Dancer) is from Abruzzo, Italy, and joined the Company in 2017. He began his training in his hometown and then pursued his major in Ballet at the Academy of Teatro Carcano in Milan. Mr. Crognaile trained at the Graham School where he graduated in 2016 and was a member of Graham 2. He danced with Nai-Ni Chen Dance Company in 2016 and 2017. Aoi Satoh (Dancer) started ballet training at Liscombe International Ballet School in Japan. She received a scholarship at the Alvin Alley School and performed Memoirs with Alvin Alley American Dance Theater (AAADT) for the City Center Season and at Lincoln Center for director of AAADT Robert Battle’s work. She has performed works by Martha Graham, Virginia McGee, Tracy Kram, Nai-Ni Chen, and more. Satoh was a member of Graham 2 and was honored with Pearl Lang Award for Excellence in Performance.

Major support for the Martha Graham Dance Company is provided by The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, The Howard Gilman Foundation, The National Endowment for the Arts, New York City Department of Cultural Affairs in partnership with the New York City Council, New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo, and the New York State Legislature. Special thanks to our Season Sponsor Eileen Fisher. The Artists employed in this production are members of the American Guild of Musical Artists AFL-CIO.

Copyright to all Martha Graham dances presented held by the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. All rights reserved.

Board of Trustees

Kenneth Bloom, Chairman; Judith G. Schloss, Chairman Emerita; Inger K. Witter, President; Lorraine Oiler, Secretary; LaRue Allen, Executive Director; Janet Elber, Artistic Director; Amy Blumenthal; Barbara Cohen; Merrie S. Frankel; Inga M. Golay; Sandra Harris; Emil Kang; Javier Morgado; Jayme Millard, Nichole Perkins, John Vail; Kathryn White; Hooman Yazhari

North American Representation
Rena Shagon Associates, Inc. (shagonarts.com)

International Representation
LaRue Allen, Executive Director (allen@marthagraham.org)

North American Representation
Rena Shagon Associates, Inc. (shagonarts.com)

International Representation
LaRue Allen, Executive Director (allen@marthagraham.org)

Memorandum Supports Everything You Love About Jacob’s Pillow

You can help the Pillow present outstanding dance artists from around the world, provide training and support to the talented dancers of The School at Jacob’s Pillow, maintain our landmark site, and create free community programs that engage people of all ages and backgrounds with dance.

Every Gift Matters. Join and Choose the Level Right for You!

Explore the full list of benefits, join as a new Member, renew your current membership, or upgrade to a higher level at jacobspillow.org/support/membership.

You can also make a donation by phone at 413.243.9919 x122.

Sustaining members support the Pillow year-round through easy, automatic monthly or quarterly gifts.

Depending on your level, membership gives you access to:

- Early Ticketing For level & above
- Admission to Cast Parties Contributor level & above
- Pillow Lab showings where you can witness the creative process Supporter level & above
- Priority Parking Passes Partners’ Circle level & above
- Invitations to Member-Exclusive Events Discounts in The Pillow Store
- Help make dance creation, presentation, education, and preservation at Jacob’s Pillow possible.

Thank you!
and Nanjing University of Arts. She is a graduate of the Ailey School and Dance Theatre of Harlem. Dance Magazine named him one of the "Top 25 Dancers to Watch" in 2010. Knight partnered with Wendy Whelan in Moon and Misty Copeland in At Summer's Full.

LLOYD KNIGHT (Dancer) joined the Company in 2005 and performs lead roles in Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Errand into the Maze, The Rite of Spring, and others. Born in England and raised in Miami, he trained at Miami Conservatory of Ballet and graduated from New World School of the Arts, under the direction of Daniel Lewis. There he worked with choreographers Donald McKayle, Robert Battle, and Michael Uthoff. He received scholarships to The Ailey School and Dance Theatre of Harlem. Dance Magazine named one of the "Top 25 Dancers to Watch" in 2010. Knight partnered with Wendy Whelan in Moon and Misty Copeland in At Summer's Full.

BEN SCHULTZ (Dancer) joined the Company in 2009 and dances lead roles including King Hades in Clytemnestra, Woodland, and Iphigenia in Aulis. He received scholarships to The Ailey School and Dance Theatre of Harlem. Dance Magazine named one of the "Top 25 Dancers to Watch" in 2010. Knight partnered with Wendy Whelan in Moon and Misty Copeland in At Summer's Full.

NAN JING (Dancer) joined the Company in 2008 and received the China Dance Lottery Award. She was the lead in Graham's Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, and other roles. In 2011 she performed as a guest teacher at The Graham School. Landreau danced with Graham 2 and was honored with the Pearl Lang Award.

ANNIE O’DONNELL (Dancer) joined the Company in 2014 and performs lead roles in Graham's Appalachian Spring, Dark Meadow Suite, El Penitente, Division of Angels, and new works by Maxine Doyle and Bobbi Jene Smith, Pam Tanowitz, Annie-B Parson, Mats Ek, Lar Lubovitch, and Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui. She danced with Aliley II and Buglisi Dance Theatre and attended The School at Jacob's Pillow's Contemporary Program, Glimmerglass Opera Festival, and Springboard Danse Montréal. She appeared on the cover of Dance Spirit's February 2016 issue "Young and Modern".

LLOYD MAYOR (Dancer) joined the Company in 2012 and performs lead roles in Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Andonis Foniadakis's Echo, and Richard Move's The Show (Achilles Heels), first danced by Mikhail Baryshnikov. In 2014, Mayor was honored with the Clive Barnes Dance Award and is now a board member of the Foundation for the Company's 90th anniversary in April 2016. Mayor danced an excerpt of Appalachian Spring with former Étoile and Artistic Director of the Paris Opera Ballet, Aurélie Dupont.

NATASHA M. DIAMOND-WALKER (Dancer) is from Los Angeles, California, and joined the Company in 2011. Her favorite Graham roles to perform are The Chorus in Cave of the Heart, Lilith from Embattled Garden, and The Pioneering Woman in Appalachian Spring. While with the Company, Diamond-Walker has worked closely in originating roles with Annie-B Parson, Maxine Doyle, Bobbi Jene Smith, Pam Tanowitz, Lil Buck, and Nacho Duato. She can also be seen cameo-ing in myriad TV/Film projects. Diamond-Walker holds a B.F.A. from Fordham University.

LORENZO PAGANO (Dancer) joined the Company in 2012 and dances lead roles in Graham's Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Night Journey, and Diversion of Angels and in contemporary works by Andonis Foniadakis, Lucinda Childs, Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui, Nacho Duato, Pontus Lidberg, and Lar Lubovitch. A native of Toronto, Italy, he moved to the U.S. and trained as a scholarship student at The School at Jacob's Pillow and The Martha Graham School. In 2016 Pagano received the Italian International Dance Award for "Male Rising Star".

CHARLOTTE LANDREAU (Dancer) is a native of France, and joined the Company in 2013. She dances lead roles in Graham’s Appalachian Spring (The Bride), Errand into the Maze, and The Rite of Spring (The Chosen One), and Maple Leaf Rag. She trained as a rhythmic gymnast and studied ballet, circus, acting, and modern dance at the Maurice Béjart School (Switzerland). In 2012 she received a scholarship to study at the Martha Graham School. Landreau danced with Graham 2 and was honored with the Pearl Lang Award.

LESLEY ANDREA WILLIAMS (Dancer) was born in Newport News, VA, and grew up in Raleigh, North Carolina. Williams joined the Company just two months after graduating from The Juilliard School in May 2015. Since then, she has performed numerous featured roles in iconic Graham ballets such as Chronicle, Appalachian Spring, Diversion of Angels, and Embattled Garden. She was recently featured in Dance Magazine as a dancer “On The Rise.”

ANNE SOUDER (Dancer) joined the Company in 2015 and performs lead roles in Graham's Dark Meadow Suite, "Steps in the Street", and Deep Song, and works by Marie Chouinard and Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui. Souder began her training in Maryville, Tennessee and continued to earn her degree in the Aliley/Fordham B.F.A. program, graduating with a double major in Dance and Theology. There she performed works by Alvin Alley, Ronald K. Brown, Dwight Rhoden, and more. Upon graduation, she joined Graham 2 and was awarded a Dizzy Feet Foundation scholarship.

Deo (2019)

CHOREOGRAPHY Maxine Doyle & Bobbi Jene Smith

MUSIC Lesley Flanagan

COSTUME DESIGN Karen Young

LIGHTING DESIGN Yi-Chung Chen

DANCERS
- So Young An
- Laurel Dalley Smith
- Natasha M. Diamond-Walker
- Marzia Memoli
- Anne O'Donnell
- Leslie Souder
- Leslie Andrea Williams
- Xin Ying

Deo is presented with support from the Beau Gage and Glenn Ousterhout Fund for New Work and was commissioned by Christopher Jones and Deb McLister on behalf of the Jacob’s Pillow Dance Festival, and by the O’Donnell-Green Music and Dance Foundation.

Co-commissioned for the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. by University Musical Society, Ann Arbor, MI. Additional production support provided by the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts.

---

Lamentation Variations (2007)

Conceived by Janet Eliber

CHOREOGRAPHY Liz Gerring, Michelle Dorrance, and Aszure Barton

MUSIC Michael J. Schumacher, Michelle Dorrance and Jaco Pastorious, George Crumb*

COSTUME DESIGN (Gerring) Reid & Harriet (Dorrance) Barbara Erin Delo (Barton) Jennifer O’Donnell

LIGHTING DESIGN (Gerring) Amith Chandashaker (Dorrance) Nicholas Houlfek (Barton) Beverly Emmons

DANCERS
- Gerring Variation Xin Ying with So Young An, Alessio Crognaile, Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
- Dorrance Variation Lloyd Knight with So Young An, Alessio Crognaile, Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
- Barton Variation Laurel Dalley Smith, Anne O’Donnell (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat) Leslie Souder, Xin Ying (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Lamentation Variations was commissioned by the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. with support from Francis Mason. Dorrance and Gerring Variations were commissioned for the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. by Carolina Performing Arts. *Pastorius (Dorrance): “Portrait of Tracy” arranged by Michelle Dorrance; Schumacher (Gerring): “Zoltan’s Ghost” commissioned by Liz Gerring Dance Company; Crumb (Barton): “Apparition” (IX. The Night in Silence Under Many a Star).
ABOUT MARTHA GRAHAM

Martha Graham has had a deep and lasting impact on American art and culture. She single-handedly defined contemporary dance as a uniquely American art form, which the nation has in turn shared with the world. Crossing artistic boundaries, she collaborated with and commissioned work from the leading visual artists, musicians, and designers of her day, including sculptor Isamu Noguchi and composers Aaron Copland, Samuel Barber, and Gian Carlo Menotti.

Graham's groundbreaking style grew from her experimentation with the elemental movements of contraction and release. By focusing on the basic activities of the human form, she enlivened the body with raw, electric emotion. The sharp, angular, and direct movements of her technique were a dramatic departure from the predominant style of the time.

Graham influenced generations of choreographers that included Merce Cunningham, Paul Taylor, and Twyla Tharp, altering the scope of dance. Classical ballet dancers Margot Fonteyn, Rudolf Nureyev, and Mikhail Baryshnikov sought her out to broaden their artistry. Artists of all genres were eager to study and work with Graham—she taught actors including Bette Davis, Kirk Douglas, Madonna, Liza Minnelli, Gregory Peck, Tony Randall, Eli Wallach, Anne Jackson, and Joanne Woodward to utilize their bodies as expressive instruments.

During her long and illustrious career, Graham created 181 dance compositions. During the Bicentennial she was granted the United States' highest civilian honor, The Medal of Freedom. In 1998, TIME Magazine named her the "Dancer of the Century." The first dancer to perform at the White House and to act as a cultural ambassador abroad, she captured the spirit of a nation. "No artist is ahead of his time," she said. "He is his time. It is just that the others are behind the time."

ABOUT MARTHA GRAHAM DANCE COMPANY

The Martha Graham Dance Company has been a world leader in the evolving art form of modern dance since its founding in 1926. Today, under the direction of Artistic Director Janet Eilber, the Company is embracing a new programming vision that showcases masterpieces by Graham alongside newly commissioned works by contemporary artists. With programs that offer a rich thematic narrative, the Company creates new platforms for contemporary dance and multiple points of access for audiences.

Since its inception, the Company has received international acclaim from audiences in over 50 countries throughout North and South America, Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Middle East. The Company has performed at such illustrious venues as the Metropolitan Opera, Carnegie Hall, the Paris Opera House, and Covent Garden, as well as at the base of the Great Pyramids of Egypt and in the ancient Herod Atticus Theatre on the Acropolis in Athens. In addition, the Company has also produced several award-winning films broadcast on PBS and around the world.

Though Martha Graham herself is the best-known alumna of her company, the Company has provided a training ground for some of modern dance’s most celebrated performers and choreographers. Former members of the Company include Merce Cunningham, Erick Hawkins, Paul Taylor, John Butler, and Glen Tetley. Among celebrities who have joined the Company in performance are Mikhail Baryshnikov, Margot Fonteyn, Rudolf Nureyev, Maya Plisetskaya, Tiler Peck, Misty Copeland, Herman Cornejo, and Aurélié Dupont.

In recent years, the Company has challenged expectations and experimented with a wide range of offerings beyond its mainstage performances. It has created a series of intimate in-studio events, forged unusual creative partnerships with the likes of SITI Company, Performa, the New Museum, Barney’s, and Siracusa’s Greek Theater Festival (to name a few); created substantial digital offerings with Google Arts and Culture, YouTube, and Cennarium; and created a model for reaching new audiences through social media. The astonishing list of artists who have created works for the Graham dancers in the last decade reads like a catalog of must-see choreographers: Kyle Abraham, Azurite Barton, Sidi Larbi Chérkaoui, Lucinda Childs, Marie Chouinard, Michelle Dorrance, Michael Duato, Mats Ek, Andonis Foniadakis, Liz Gerring, Larry Keigwin, Michael Klabin, Pontus Lidberg, Ul Buck, Lar Lubovitch, Josie Moseley, Richard Move, Bulareyangan Pagalarwa, Annie-B Parson, Yvonne Rainer, Sonya Tayeh, Doug Varone, Luca Veggetti, Gwen Welliver, and Robert Wilson.

The current company dancers hail from around the world and, while grounded in their Graham core training, can also slip into the style of contemporary choreographers like a second skin, bringing technical brilliance and artistic nuance to all they do—from brand new works to Graham classics and those from early pioneers such as Isadora Duncan, Jane Dudley, Anna Sokolow, and Mary Wigman. "Some of the most skilled and powerful dancers you can ever hope to see," according to The Washington Post last year, "One of the great companies of the world today." "The New York Times, while The Los Angeles Times notes, “They seem able to do anything, and to make it look easy as well as poetic.”

JANET EILBER (Artistic Director) has been the Company’s Artistic Director since 2005. Her direction has focused on creating new forms of audience access to Martha Graham’s masterworks. These initiatives include contextual programming, educational and community partnerships, use of new media, commissions from today’s top choreographers, and creative events such as the Lamentation Variations. Earlier in her career, as a principal dancer with the Company, Ms. Eilber worked closely with Martha Graham. She danced many of Graham’s greatest roles, had roles created for her by Graham, and was directed by Graham in most of the major roles of the repertory. She soloed at the White House, was partnered by Rudolf Nureyev, starred in three segments of Dance in America, and has since taught, lectured, and directed Graham ballets internationally. Apart from her work with Graham, Ms. Eilber has performed in films, on television, and on Broadway directed by such greats as Agnes de Mille and Bob Fosse, and has received four Lester Horton Awards for her reconstruction and performance of seminal American modern dance. She has served as Director of Arts Education for the Dana Foundation, guiding the Foundation’s support for Teaching Artist training and contributing regularly to its arts education publications. Ms. Eilber is a Trustee Emeritus of the Interlochen Center for the Arts. She is married to screenwriter/director John Warren, with whom she has two daughters, Madeline and Eva.

DENISE VALE (Senior Artistic Associate) joined the Martha Graham Dance Company in 1985, attaining the rank of principal dancer. Roles performed include The Pioneering Woman in Appalachian Spring, Woman in White in Diversion of Angels, Chorus Leader in Night Journey, Chorus in Cave of the Heart, the Attendant in Hérodias, Leader in the 1980s reconstruction of “Steps in the Street”, and Night Chant, a ballet created for Ms. Vale by Martha Graham in 1989. Graham solos
Chronicle (1936)

CHOREOGRAPHY & COSTUMES
Martha Graham

MUSIC
Wallingford Riegger*

LIGHTING DESIGN
Jean Rosenthal

Lighting for reconstruction (“Steps in the Street”) by David Finley
Lighting for reconstruction (“Spectre—1914”, “Prelude to Action”) by Steven L. Shelley

DANCERS

I. Spectre—1914
Drums—Red Shroud—Lament
Xin Ying (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Leslie Andrea Williams (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

II. Steps in the Street
Devastation—Homelessness—Exile
Anne Souder (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Marzia Memoli (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
So Young An, Alyssa Cebulski, Laurel Dalley Smith, Natasha M. Diamond-Walker, Charlotte Landreau, Marzia Memoli, Anne O’Donnell, Aoi Sato, Anne Souder, Leslie Andrea Williams, Xin Ying

III. Prelude to Action
Unity—Pledge to the Future
Xin Ying, Anne Souder (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Leslie Andrea Williams, Marzia Memoli (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
So Young An, Alyssa Cebulski, Laurel Dalley Smith, Natasha M. Diamond-Walker, Charlotte Landreau, Marzia Memoli, Anne O’Donnell, Aoi Sato, Anne Souder, Leslie Andrea Williams, Xin Ying

*Finale from “New Dance, Opus 18” (for “Steps in the Street”), orchestrated by Justin Dello Joio, used by arrangement with Associated Music Publishers, Inc., publisher and copyright owner. Additional

COMPANY

ABOUT MARTHA GRAHAM DANCE COMPANY

The Martha Graham Dance Company has been a world leader in the evolving art form of modern dance since its founding in 1926. Today, under the direction of Artistic Director Janet Eilber, the Company is embracing a new programming vision that showcases masterpieces by Graham alongside newly commissioned works by contemporary artists. With programs that offer a rich thematic narrative, the Company creates new platforms for contemporary dance and multiple points of access for audiences.

Since its inception, the Company has received international acclaim from audiences in over 50 countries throughout North and South America, Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Middle East. The Company has performed at such illustrious venues as the Metropolitan Opera, Carnegie Hall, the Paris Opera House, and Covent Garden, as well as at the base of the Great Pyramids of Egypt and in the ancient Herod Atticus Theatre on the Acropolis in Athens. In addition, the Company has also produced several award-winning films broadcast on PBS and around the world.

Though Martha Graham herself is the best-known alumnus of her company, the Company has provided a training ground for some of modern dance’s most celebrated performers and choreographers. Former members of the Company include Merce Cunningham, Erick Hawkins, Paul Taylor, John Butler, and Glen Tetley. Among celebrities who have joined the Company in performance are Mikhail Baryshnikov, Margot Fonteyn, Rudolf Nureyev, Maya Plisetskaya, Tiler Peck, Misty Copeland, Herman Cornejo, and Aurélié Dupont.

In recent years, the Company has challenged expectations and experimented with a wide range of offerings beyond its mainstage performances. It has created a series of intimate in-studio events, forged unusual creative partnerships with the likes of SITI Company, Perfomma, the New Museum, Barney’s, and Siracusa’s Greek Theater Festival (to name a few); created substantial digital offerings with Google Arts and Culture, YouTube, and Cennarium; and created a model for reaching new audiences through social media. The astonishing list of artists who have created works for the Graham dancers in the last decade reads like a catalog of must-see choreographers: Kyle Abraham, Azurite Barth, Sidi Larbi Chérkaoui, Lucinda Childs, Marie Chouinard, Michelle Dorrance, Nacho Duato, Mats Ek, Andonis Foniadakis, Liz Gerring, Larry Keigwin, Michael Kliën, Pontus Lidberg, Lil Buck, Lar Lubovitch, Josie Moseley, Richard Move, Bulareyayang Pagalarava, Annie-B Parson, Yvonne Rainer, Sonya Tayeh, Doug Varone, Luca Veggetti, Gwen Welliver, and Robert Wilson.

The current company dancers hail from around the world and, while grounded in their Graham core technique, can also slip into the style of contemporary choreographers like a second skin, bringing technical brilliance and artistic nuance to all they do—from brand new works to Graham classics and those from early pioneers such as Isadora Duncan, Janice Dudley, Anna Sokolow, and Mary Wigman. “Some of the most skilled and powerful dancers you can ever hope to see,” according to The Washington Post last year. “One of the great companies of the world,” says The New York Times, while The Los Angeles Times notes, “They seem able to do anything, and to make it look easy as well as poetic.”

JANET EILBER (Artistic Director) has been the Company’s Artistic Director since 2005. Her direction has focused on creating new forms of audience access to Martha Graham’s masterworks. These initiatives include contextual programming, educational and community partnerships, use of new media, commissions from today’s top choreographers, and creative events such as the Lamentation Variations. Earlier in her career, as a principal dancer with the Company, Ms. Eilber worked closely with Martha Graham. She danced many of Graham’s greatest roles, had roles created for her by Graham, and was directed by Graham in most of the major roles of the repertory. She soloed at the White House, was partnered by Rudolf Nureyev, starred in three segments of Dance in America, and has since taught, lectured, and directed Graham ballets internationally. Apart from her work with Graham, Ms. Eilber has performed in films, on television, and on Broadway directed by such greats as Agnes de Mille and Bob Fosse, and has received four Lester Horton Awards for her reconstruction and performance of seminal American modern dance. She has served as Director of Arts Education for the Dana Foundation, guiding the Foundation’s support for Teaching Artist training and contributing regularly to its arts education publications. Ms. Eilber is a Trustee Emeritus of the Interlochen Center for the Arts. She is married to screenwriter/director John Warren, with whom she has two daughters, Madeline and Eva.

DENISE VALE (Senior Artistic Associate) joined the Martha Graham Dance Company in 1985, attaining the rank of principal dancer. Roles performed include The Pioneering Woman in Appalachian Spring, Woman in White in Diversion of Angels, Chorus Leader in Night Journey, Chorus in Cave of the Heart, the Attendant in Hérodiade, Leader in the 1980s reconstruction of “Steps in the Street”, and Night Chant, a ballet created for Ms. Vale by Martha Graham in 1989. Graham solos was awarded a full scholarship to The Graham School, and was a member of Graham 2.

LOLLY MAYOR (Dancer) joined the Company in 2012 and performs lead roles in Graham's Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Errand into the Maze, The Rite of Spring, and other. Born in England and raised in Miami, he trained at Miami Conservatory of Ballet and graduated from New World School of the Arts, under the direction of Daniel Lewis. There he worked with choreographers Donald McKayle, Robert Battle, and Michael Uthoff. He received scholarships to The Ailey School and Dance Theatre of Harlem. Dance Magazine named him one of the “Top 25 Dancers to Watch” in 2010. Knight partnered Wendy Whelan in Moon and Misty Copeland in At Summer’s Full.

BEN SCHULTZ (Dancer) joined the Company in 2009 and dances lead roles including King Hades in Graham’s Appalachian Spring, Diversion of Angels, and the Maze. He received scholarships to The Barnes Dance Award and is now a board member of the Foundation. For the Company’s 90th anniversary in April 2016, Mayor danced an excerpt of Appalachian Spring with former Étoile and Artistic Director of the Paris Opera Ballet, Aurélie Dupont.

Clytemnestra, Woodland, and more. Upon graduation, she was featured in Dance Magazine’s February 2016 Issue “Young and Modern”.

Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (Dancer) is from Los Angeles, California, and joined the Company in 2011. Her favorite Graham roles to perform are The Chorus in Cave of the Heart, Lilith from Embattled Garden, and The Pioneering Woman in Appalachian Spring. While with the Company, Diamond-Walker has worked closely in originating roles with Annie-B Parson, Maxine Doyle, Bobbi Jane Smith, Pam Tanowitz, Lil Buck, and Nacho Duato. She can also be seen cameo-ing in myriad TV/Film projects. Diamond-Walker holds a B.F.A. from Fordham University.

LORRENZO PAGANO (Dancer) joined the Company in 2012 and performs lead roles in Graham’s Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Night Journey, and Diversion of Angels and in contemporary works by Andonis Foniadakis, Lucinda Childs, Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui, Nacho Duato, Lil Buck, and Nacho Duato. She can also be seen cameo-ing in myriad TV/Film projects. Diamond-Walker holds a B.F.A. from Fordham University.

LOLLY MAYOR (Dancer) joined the Company in 2012 and performs lead roles in Graham’s Appalachian Spring, Embattled Garden, Night Journey, and Diversion of Angels and in contemporary works by Andonis Foniadakis, Lucinda Childs, Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui, Nacho Duato, Lil Buck, and Nacho Duato. She can also be seen cameo-ing in myriad TV/Film projects. Diamond-Walker holds a B.F.A. from Fordham University.

ANNE O’DONNELL (Dancer) joined the Company in 2014 and performs lead roles in Graham’s Appalachian Spring, Dark Meadow Suite, El Penitente, Embattled Garden, and more. She danced with Aliley II and Buglisi Dance Theatre and attended The School at Jacob’s Pillow’s Contemporary Program, Glimmerglass Opera Festival, and Springboard Danse Montréal. She appeared on the cover of Dance Spirit’s February 2016 Issue “Young and Modern”.

Leslie Andrea Williams (Dancer) was born in Newport News, VA, and grew up in Raleigh, North Carolina. Williams joined the Company just two months after graduating from The Juilliard School in May 2015. Since then, she has performed numerous featured roles in iconic Graham ballets such as Chronicle, Appalachian Spring, Diversion of Angels, and Embattled Garden. She was recently featured in Dance Magazine as a dancer “On The Rise.”

Anne Souder (Dancer) joined the Company in 2015 and performs lead roles in Graham’s Dark Meadow Suite, “Steps in the Street”, and Deep Song, and works by Marie Chouinard and Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui. Souder began her training in Maryville, Tennessee and continued to earn her degree in the Ailey/Fordham B.F.A. program, graduating with a double major in Dance and Theater. There she performed works by Alvin Ailey, Ronald K. Brown, Dwight Rhoden, and more. Upon graduation, she joined Graham 2 and was awarded a Dizzy Feet Foundation scholarship.

Deo (2019)

Choreography

Maxine Doyle & Bobbi Jene Smith

Music

Leslie Flanigan

Costume Design

Karen Young

Lighting Design

Yi-Chung Chen

Dancers

So Young An
Lauren Dalley Smith
Natasha M. Diamond-Walker
Marzia Memoli
Anne O’Donnell
Anne Souder
Leslie Andrea Williams
Xin Ying

Deo is presented with support from the Beau Gage and Glenn Ousterhout Fund for New Work and was commissioned by Christopher Jones and Deb McAlister on behalf of the Jacob’s Pillow Dance Festival, and by the O’Donnell-Green Music and Dance Foundation. Co-commissioned for the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. by University Musical Society, Ann Arbor, MI. Additional production support provided by the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts.

- INTERMISSION -

Lamentation Variations (2007)

Conceived by Janet Elber

Choreography

Liz Gerring, Michelle Dorrance, and Azzure Barton

Music

Michael J. Schumacher, Michelle Dorrance and Jaco Pastorius, George Crumb

Costume Design

(Gerring) Reid & Harriet (Dorrance) Barbara Erin Delo (Barton) Jennifer O’Donnell

Lighting Design

(Garring) Amith Chandashaker (Dorrance) Nicholas Houfek (Barton) Beverly Emmons

Dancers

Gerring Variation
Xin Ying with So Young An, Alessio Crognaile, Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Barton Variation
Laurel Dalley Smith, Anne O’Donnell (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

Dance Magazine's February 2016 Issue “Young and Modern”.

The Lamentation Variations was commissioned by the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. with support from Francis Mason. Dorrance and Gerring Variations were commissioned for the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. by Carolina Performing Arts.

*Pastorius (Dorrance): “Portrait of Tracy” arranged by Michelle Dorrance; Schumacher (Gerring): “Zoltan’s Ghost” commissioned by Liz Gerring Dance Company; Crumb (Barton): “Apparition” (IX. The Night in Silence Under Many a Star).
PROGRAM
Appalachian Spring (1944)

Springtime in the wilderness is celebrated by a man and woman building a house with joy and love and prayer; by a revivalist and his followers in their shouts of exaltation; by a pioneering woman with her dreams of the Promised Land.

CHOREOGRAPHY & COSTUMES
Martha Graham

MUSIC
Aaron Copland*

SET DESIGN
Isamu Noguchi

LIGHTING DESIGN
Joan Rosenthal
Adapted by Beverly Emmons

DANCERS
The Bride
Charlotte Landreau (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Anne O’Donnell (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
The Husbandman
Jacobs Larsen (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Lloyd Major (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
The Preacher
Lorenzo Pagano (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Lloyd Knight (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
The Pioneering Woman
Leslie Andrea Williams (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)
The Followers
So Young An, Laurel Dalley Smith, Marzia Memioli, Anne Souder

LAUREL DALLEY SMITH (Dancer) is from England, and joined the Company in 2015. She performs lead roles in Graham’s Errand into the Maze, Maple Leaf Rag, and Diversion of Angels, and roles in contemporary works by Marie Chouinard, Pontus Lidberg, and Anni-B Parson. Ms. Dalley Smith graduated from Central School of Ballet with 1st Class Honours. Before joining Graham she performed with the U.K. tour of West Side Story, Joss Arnotts Dance, and York Dance Project, creating roles in Robert Cohan’s 2014 Linqua Franco and Lacrymosa.

SO YOUNG AN (Dancer) joined the Company in 2016. An received a B.B.A. from Daegu University in Korea. She is the recipient of the 1995 International Arts Award and the Grand Prize at the Korea National Ballet Grand Prix in 2001. She has danced with Korea National Ballet Company and Buglisi Dance Theatre and has also performed works by Yuri Grigorovich, Jean Christophe Maillot, Mats Ek, Patricia Flower, and Samantha Dunster.

MARZIA MEMOUI (Dancer) is from Palermo, Italy, and joined the Company in 2016, and performs lead roles in Graham’s El Perdónente, “Steps in the Street”, and works by Pontus Lidberg, Bobbi Jane Smith, Maxine Doyle, and Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui. In 2018 Dance Spirit said she “may be the…Company’s newest dancer, but her classical lines and ease and grace are already turning heads”. She graduated from the Academy of Teatro Carcano in Milan and the Béjart school, where she performed with the Béjart Ballet Lausanne.

JACOB LARSEN (Dancer) joined the Company in 2016. Larsen received his B.F.A. from Marymount Manhattan College where he performed works by Paul Taylor, Tayyar Tharp, Azuro Barton, Loni Landen, and Ray McDonald. At Springboard Danse Montréal 2015 he performed works by Alexander Ekman and Banning Boulding. Larsen trained at the Graham School and was a member of Graham 2.

AYCIIA CEBULSKI (Dancer) was born and raised in Michigan, where she trained at Valentina’s School of Ballet. She graduated from Marymount Manhattan College in 2016 with a B.F.A. in Ballet under the direction of Katze Langan. She has performed works by Dwight Rhoden, Kate Skarpetowska, Azuro Barton, and Darrell Grand Moultrie, among others. She was a member of Graham 2.

ALESSIO CROGNALE (Dancer) is from Abruzzo, Italy, and joined the Company in 2017. He began his training in his hometown and then pursued his major in Ballet at the Academy of Teatro Carcano in Milan. Mr. Crognale trained at the Graham School where he graduated in 2016 and was a member of Graham 2. He danced with Nai-Ni Chen Dance Company in 2016 and 2017.

AOI SATO (Dancer) started ballet training at Lirome International Ballet School in Japan. She received a scholarship at the Alvin Alley School and performed Memoria with Alvin Alley American Dance Theater (AAADT) for the City Center Season and at Lincoln Center for director of AAADT Robert Battle’s work. She has performed works by Martha Graham, Virginia Meleone, Tracy Kane, Nai Ni Chen, and more. Sato was a member of Graham 2 and was honored with Pearl Lang Award for Excellence in Performance.

Commissioned by the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation in the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. The original title chosen by Aaron Copland was Ballet for Martha which was changed by Martha Graham to Appalachian Spring.

*Used by arrangement with the Aaron Copland Fund for Music, copyright owner; and Boosey and Hawkes, Inc., sole publisher and licensor.

Major support for the Martha Graham Dance Company is provided by The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, The Howard Gilman Foundation, The National Endowment for the Arts, New York City Department of Cultural Affairs in partnership with the New York City Council, New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo, and the New York State Legislature. Special thanks to our Season Sponsor Eileen Fisher. The Artists employed in this production are members of the American Guild of Musical Artists AFL-CIO. Copyright to all Martha Graham dances presented held by the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance, Inc. All rights reserved.

Board of Trustees
Kenneth Bloom, Chairman; Judith G. Schlosser, Chairman Emerita; Inger K. Witter, President; Lorraine Oiler, Secretary; LaRue Allen, Executive Director; Janet Elber, Artistic Director; Amy Blumenthal; Barbara Cohen; Merrie S. Frankel, Inga M. Golay; Sandra Harris, Emil Kang; Javier Morgado, Jayme Miller, Nicolle Perkins, John Vail, Kathryn White; Hooman Yashari

North American Representation
 Rena Shagun Associates, Inc. (chantalarts.com)

International Representation
LaRue Allen, Executive Director (fallen@martahgramah.org)

Early Ticketing Fan level & above Admission to Cast Parties Contributor level & above Pillow Lab showings where you can witness the creative process Supporter level & above Priority Parking Passes Partners’ Circle level & above Invitations to Member-Exclusive Events Discounts in The Pillow Store

Help make dance creation, presentation, education, and preservation at Jacob’s Pillow possible.

Thank you!
Graham's quest to express big ideas through a new dance vocabulary must certainly have been one of the reasons that she chose to leave Denishawn after having apprenticed, taught, and performed there over a period of seven formative years. She felt trapped in the dictum she carried forward from that day, and this philosophy can still be discerned in Graham dances such as the classic Lamentation, in which emotion is expressed purely through movement. The innovations of Lamentation are explored on this program by three of the School's dancers, or artists-in-residence.

Thankfully, Graham's choreographic legacy is now unencumbered after years of uncertainty triggered by Graham herself. The iconic status of great artists sometimes makes it difficult to envision them as anything but full-blown geniuses. And yet their biographies—and simple logic—tell us that Picasso did indeed have a childhood and even Stravinsky was once an inexperienced young pianist. And so is it that Martha Graham, arguably the 20th century's most influential modern dancer and choreographer, was once a giggling, precocious toddler and later a promising student at Denishawn, the Los Angeles-based school and company run by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.

Of course, even in her childhood—at or in her recollection of it—the seeds of Graham's artistry were evident. Her father was an alchemist (an arcane term for a doctor handling mental disorders), and young Martha was influenced by his keen observation that "Modernistic Moe." Martha Graham continued breaking rules for the rest of her life, especially the ones suggesting that dance should be merely a pretty pastime. "Like the modern painters and architects, we have stripped our medium of decorative unessentialities," she once wrote. "Just as fancy trimmings are no longer seen on buildings, so dancing no longer is padded. It is not pretty but it is much more real." Her first New York concert in 1925 featured such derivative works as The Three Gopi Maidens, which would have looked perfectly at home on a Denishawn program. But a mere three years later, she was presenting shockingly stark new dances such as Heretic and, soon after, the breakthrough Primitive Mysteries. Some critics, such as John Martin in The New York Times, changed their tune when they saw Graham's dances for the first time, while others ridiculed her. Even fake ballet took a stab at her in a 1927 Vogue piece called "Modernistic Moe."

Graham persevered in spite of, or perhaps because of the struggle. In time, she conquered the mechanics of any-thing she put her hand to. Some of her dances have entered standard repertoire, works such as the current Pillow program's Appalachian Spring (1944) with its commissioned score by Aaron Copland, and Diversion of Angels (1945), which has been performed by American Ballet Theatre and the Paul Taylor Dance Company. Other works, such as Cave Installation (1958), are rarely performed but may still be appreciated today when looking through achievements in telling stories through movement.

Even Franklin kept Graham in the business, and she always endeavored to capture her audiences on a gut level. Even when viewers didn't fully comprehend her dances, their power could be felt in a visceral sense.

For further reading:
Deo, by Gaga-trained Bobbi Jene Smith and theatrical choreographer Maxine Doyle. All of these initiatives ensure
Heggie, by Norton Owen
Heggie, wrote of how Graham had made things difficult for biographers by destroying personal documents and letters. "The other generation who grew up watching her perform are now the focused on a deeper level.
Dance Podcast, the Pillow's online series of conversations with our scholars-in-residence and others to provide audiences with a broader context for viewing dance.
JACOB'S PILLOW EXTENDS SPECIAL THANKS TO OUR VISIONARY LEADERS
VISIONARY LEADERS form an important foundation of support and demonstrate their passion for and commitment to Jacob's Pillow through annual gifts of $10,000 and above.

Alumni of The School at Jacob's Pillow

Martha Graham Dance Company's engagement at Jacob's Pillow is supported, in part, by a leadership contribution from Fred Moses.

Martha Graham Dance Company presents Ted Shawn Theatre August 14-17, 2019

ARTISTIC DIRECTOR
Janet Elber

PRESENTS

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
LaRue Allen

SRVNE ARTISTIC ASSOCIATE
Denise Vale

COMPANY
Lloyd Knight
Ben Schutz
Xin Ying
Lloyd Nathan
Marilyn D. Diamond-Walker
Lorenzo Pagano*
Charlotte Landreau
Anne O’Donnell*
Leslie-Andrea Williams
Anne Souder
Laurel Dalney Smith
So Young An
Marzia Memoli
Jacobian Lavin
Alyssa Cebulski
Alessio Cognale
Aoi Sato

INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT

As of May 23, 2019 major support for Jacob's Pillow was generously provided by the following institutions: The Arison Arts Foundation; Arnhold Foundation; The Barrington Foundation; Berkshire Taconic Community Foundation; Blue Cross Blue Shield Foundation; Joan & Charlie Gross; Deval & Diane Patrick and Mark A. Leavitt; Nancy & Michael Feller; Sheila Drill; Hermine Drezner; Neil* & Kathleen Chrisman; Chervenak-Nunnallé Foundation; Aliad Fund; Carolyn Gray & George Peppard; Stephanie & Robert ‡ Gittleman; of John Lindquist & Barton Mumaw; Frank & Monique Cordasco; Carole* & Dan Burack; Emily & Todd Fries; Ellen Weissman; Stephen Weiner & Donald Cornuet; Roger Tilles; Lisbeth Tarlow & Stephen Kay; Mark Sena & Linda Saul-Sena; Naomi Seligman & Ernie von Simson; Diane & Deval Patrick; Claudia Perks; Caren & Barry Rosenman; Hunter K. Runnycat & Mark P. Vandenbosch; Naomi Seligman & Erre von Simon; Natasha & Michael Simon; Natalie & Howard Shawn; Lisa-Lisbet & Stephen Kay; Roger Tilles; Stephen Weiner & Donald Cornert; Ellen Witsen; Mark & Liz Williams; Elaine* & Irving Wolber.

* Former Trustees, staff, faculty, interns, The School's dancers, or artists-in-residence

funded in part, by a leadership contribution from Fred Moses.

The iconic status of great artists sometimes makes it difficult to envision them as anything but full-blown geniuses. And yet their biographies—and simple logic—tell us that Picasso did indeed have a childhood and even Stravinsky was once an inexperienced young pianist. And so is it that Martha Graham, arguably the 20th century's most influential modern dancer and choreographer, was once a giggling, precocious toddler and later a promising student at Denishawn, the Los Angeles-based school and company run by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.

Of course, even in her childhood—at or in her recollection of it—the seeds of Graham's artistry were evident. Her father was an alchemist (an arcane term for a doctor handling mental disorders), and young Martha was influenced by his keen observation that

Martha Graham Dance Company's engagement at Jacob's Pillow is supported, in part, by a leadership contribution from Fred Moses.

Martha Graham Dance Company presents Ted Shawn Theatre August 14-17, 2019

ARTISTIC DIRECTOR
Janet Elber

PRESENTS

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
LaRue Allen

SRVNE ARTISTIC ASSOCIATE
Denise Vale

COMPANY
Lloyd Knight
Ben Schutz
Xin Ying
Lloyd Nathan
Marilyn D. Diamond-Walker
Lorenzo Pagano*
Charlotte Landreau
Anne O’Donnell*
Leslie-Andrea Williams
Anne Souder
Laurel Dalney Smith
So Young An
Marzia Memoli
Jacobian Lavin
Alyssa Cebulski
Alessio Cognale
Aoi Sato

INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT

As of May 23, 2019 major support for Jacob's Pillow was generously provided by the following institutions: The Arison Arts Foundation; Arnhold Foundation; The Barrington Foundation; Berkshire Taconic Community Foundation; Blue Cross Blue Shield Foundation of Massachusetts; The Chevening Fund; The Fellowship Fund; for Dance; Foundation; Howard Gilman Foundation; Harkness Gallery Foundation for Dance; Joan & Sanford I. Weill Foundation; Arthur and John S. and James L. Knight Foundation; Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency; MassDevelopment; The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation; Merkin Foundation; New England Foundation for the Arts; National Endowment for the Arts; Onota Foundation; The Prospect Hill Foundation; The Student Fund; The Robert and Tina Sohn Foundation; The Springfield Foundation; Selected Students in the Arts Initiative, a collaboration of the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation and Sundance Institute; The Thompson Family Foundation; The Veltman Foundation; Weissman Family Foundation; and Jacob's Pillow Business Partners.
PROGRAM

Appalachian Spring (1944)

Springtime in the wilderness is celebrated by a man and woman building a house with joy and love and prayer; by a revivalist and his followers in their shouts of exaltation; by a pioneering woman with her dreams of the Promised Land.

CHOREOGRAPHY & COSTUMES
Martha Graham

MUSIC
Aaron Copland*

SET DESIGN
Isamu Noguchi

LIGHTING DESIGN
Joan Rosenthal

Adapted by Beverly Emmons

DANCERS
The Bride
Charlotte Landreau (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Anne O'Donnell (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Husbandman
Jacob Larsen (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Lloyd Mayor (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Preacher
Lorenzo Pagano (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)

Lloyd Knight (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Pioneering Woman
Leslie Andrea Williams (8/14, 8/15 eve, 8/17 mat)
Natasha M. Diamond-Walker (8/15 mat, 8/16, 8/17 eve)

The Followers
So Young An, Laurel Dalley Smith, Marzia Memoli, Anne Souder

LAUREL DALLEY SMITH (Dancer) is from England, and joined the Company in 2015. She performs lead roles in Graham’s Errand into the Maze, Maple Leaf Rag, and Diversion of Angels, and roles in contemporary works by Marie Chouinard, Pontus Lidberg, and Annie-B Parson. Ms. Dalley Smith graduated from Central School of Ballet with 1st Class Honours. Before joining Graham she performed with the U.K. tour of West Side Story, Joss Arnott Dance, and Yoko Dance Project, creating roles in Robert Cohan’s 2014 Tango Francia and Lacrymosa.

SO YOUNG AN (Dancer) joined the Company in 2016. An received a B.F.A. from Dance Korea in Korea. She is the recipient of the 1995 International Arts Award and the Grand Prize at the Korea National Ballet Grand Prix in 2001. She has danced with Korea National Ballet Company and Buglisi Dance Theatre and has also performed works by Yuri Grigorovitch, Jean Christophe Maillot, Mats Ek, Patricia Ruanne, and Samantha Dunster.

Martha Graham Dance Company

HOUSE RULES:
- Silence cell phones
- Photography & recording are prohibited
- Other than water, food & beverages are prohibited
- Keep your ticket with you at all times
- Let a staff member know if you need help

We are dedicated to fostering a safe, comfortable, and enjoyable experience for everyone on our beautiful campus. You, the Pillow’s guests, are the key to making this experience memorable and enjoyable. If you have any suggestions, comments, or incidents to report, please direct them to Deputy Director A.J. Pietrantone at apietrantone@jacobspillow.org.

Martha Graham Dance Company

We are so glad you are here. Enjoy the show!

We refer to the guidelines as the "House Rules," and we expect guests to follow them at all Pillow events. They ensure the safety and enjoyment of everyone in attendance. The full list of House Rules can be found here:

http://www.jacobspillow.org/visit/house-rules

Every gift matters. Join and choose the level right for you!

Explore the full list of benefits, join as a new Member, renew your current membership, or upgrade to a higher level at jacobspillow.org/support/membership.

You can also make a donation by phone at 413.243.9919 x122.

Sustaining members support the Pillow year-round through easy, automatic monthly or quarterly gifts.

Help make dance creation, presentation, education, and preservation at Jacob’s Pillow possible.

Thank you!

MEMBERSHIP SUPPORTS EVERYTHING YOU LOVE ABOUT JACOB’S PILLOW.

Join our thousands of Members & Support our mission of Jacob’s Pillow.

You can help the Pillow present outstanding dance artists from around the world, provide training and support to the talented dancers of The School at Jacob’s Pillow, maintain our landmark site, and create free community programs that engage people of all ages and backgrounds with dance.

Everyone is welcome to the Pillow this summer to enjoy the arts and explore the Pillow’s campus with their family, friends, and colleagues. The Pillow’s programs and services are free for everyone, and there are options for all budgets. For those looking to support Pillow programs, membership levels start at $75. Members and donors make it possible for us to bring the arts to you every day. Support the Pillow today.

Early Ticketing Fan level & above

Admission to Cast Parties Contributor level & above

Pillow Lab showings where you can witness the creative process Supporter level & above

Priority Parking Passes Patrons’ Circle level & above

Invitations to Member-Exclusive Events Discounts in The Pillow Store

Thank you!
The iconic status of great artists sometimes makes it difficult to envision them as anything but full-blown geniuses. And yet their broader context for viewing dance.

Instituional Support

As of May 23, 2019 major support for Jacob's Pillow has been generously provided by the National Endowment for the Arts; Onota Foundation; The Prospect Hill Foundation; The Shubert W. Mellon Foundation; Mertz Gilmore Foundation; New England Foundation for the Arts; Krieble Delmas Foundation; The Ford Foundation; Howard Gilman Foundation; Harkness The Barrington Foundation; Berkshire Taconic Community Foundation; Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts; The Chevrén Nunnallé Foundation; The Elected Friends; Joan & Jim Hunter; Carolyn Gray & George Peppard; Stephanie & Robert I. Lurie; Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.

The Pillow’s annual offerings, including educational initiatives, free public programs, The School, the Archives, and more.

Institutional Support

As of May 23, 2019 major support for Jacob's Pillow has been generously provided by the National Endowment for the Arts; Onota Foundation; The Prospect Hill Foundation; The Shubert W. Mellon Foundation; Mertz Gilmore Foundation; New England Foundation for the Arts; Krieble Delmas Foundation; The Ford Foundation; Howard Gilman Foundation; Harkness The Barrington Foundation; Berkshire Taconic Community Foundation; Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts; The Chevrén Nunnallé Foundation; The Elected Friends; Joan & Jim Hunter; Carolyn Gray & George Peppard; Stephanie & Robert I. Lurie; Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.